3064 1 2090 [15-05-2018 22:43:05]: License Key Recovery : 0 [15-05-2018 22:43:05]: The license number of the product is : 0 A: The license key has been wiped or reset. This is common in Rational System Architect for example where you may have to do a re-installation and the license key may be lost or reset during the re-installation process. When starting up Rational Software, you will be prompted with a license error, you can get a new license key from your IBM Rational account or you can purchase a new license. Q: What is the consequence of overload for a function call I am learning C++, and I have a question about overloading. I have a doubt in below example: #include using namespace std; void h(int){ cout
