The standard color model in Photoshop is CMYK. ## Getting the lowdown on layers Layers are one of the most important concepts in Photoshop. When you open an image, you see the first layer at the bottom-left corner of the workspace, at the Layers palette (the default location). A _layer_ is the basic unit of data in Photoshop. You can create as many layers as you like, and they each contain their own color information. Use the Layer palette to access your layers. You can also add layer frames to each layer if you want. If you are not familiar with layers, the best way to learn them is to experiment. You can find the Layer palette in the bottom-left corner of the window when you open a new Photoshop document.

Birds of a feather: Chick-fil-A to open in AME church in Woodbridge neighborhood of Colts Neck Gina Leone | NorthJersey Show Caption Hide Caption Chick-fil-A to open in AME church in Colts Neck More than 1,000 people packed the Colts Neck firehouse for an information meeting regarding Chick-fil-A's plans to open a restaurant inside the American Moravian Evangelical church in Colts Neck, according to video obtained by News 12. COLTS NECK — There's a new arrival on the diner block in Colts Neck. A Chick-fil-A will soon open at the intersection of U.S. 9 and Main Street, in a building belonging to a church on the city's main drag. The two entities share a parking lot on the southeast corner of the intersection. The former location of Chick-fil-A was in the Veterans of Foreign Wars building in north Colts Neck. The restaurant in that location closed earlier this year, according to Anthony Pierluigi, a spokesman for Chick-fil-A. Pierluigi said that Chick-fil-A has only been in business for 70 years, and that there are approximately 125 restaurants across the country serving between 6,000 and 8,000 meals a day. More than 1,000 people attended an informational meeting held in the old VFW headquarters and library Monday afternoon to learn more about the new establishment. The chicken restaurant will be called Chick-fil-A of Colts Neck. The restaurant will open in the spring. The building is owned by the American Moravian Evangelical Church, the same church that owns the Episcopal church across the street, a school, and the public library. The news about Chick-fil-A, first reported by News 12 and confirmed by the church, elicited mixed feelings from residents at the informational meeting. "I love Chick-fil-A," said one attendee. "It's fine, they've got good food," said a former employee who'd worked at the Veterans of Foreign Wars location. "I hope they can open there." Many expressed the belief that the new restaurant will bring traffic to the area. "It's going to be worse," said one woman, who wondered aloud how they'd replace the parking spots the restaurant would take up. The owner of the Moose Barn on the other side of
